MAT DANCE MYSTERY—Terry O'Brien and Steve Slack demonstrate the problems of choosing dance partners for mat dance tomorrow. Girls will be auctioned to highest bidders, but will not be "unsacked" until money is paid. Mat dance is part of annual women's week activities, which are being sponsored by AWS.

Men Beware . . .

Mat Dance, Banquet Highlight AWS Week

The spotlight is on the fairer sex this week, with the second annual AWS-sponsored Women's Week now in its second day.

Tomorrow's mat dance is included in Women's Week plans and Beauty Bartering has been chosen as the theme. As a special feature of the dance, six beautiful girls will be auctioned, as dancing partners, to the highest bidders. Don White will serve as auctioneer and to add to the suspense, girls' faces will be covered. Unveiling will be permitted only after the sale is completed. Mat dance chairman is Martha Tingey.

Recognition Banquet

The annual AWS Recognition Banquet honoring outstanding girls in various fields of campus activity is set for the Banquet Hall at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Awards will be made to girls in various academic departments, as well as for those who have rendered outstanding service to the school.

Yesterday was highlighted by a fashion show, featuring bridal fashions. The bridal theme will continue today with Trousseau Treasures displayed in the Banquet Hall from 2-5 p.m. Items displayed include crystal, china, silver, appliances, and linens. A special display has been arranged to show various types of wedding announcements and invitations, thank you notes, and bridal napkins. All displays were arranged by various downtown stores.

Added Attraction

An added attraction will be an afternoon talk at 2:30 by a bridal consultant, who will speak on problems of wedding etiquette. She will also be on hand during the afternoon to answer questions on any phase of wedding activity.

Climaxing the week's activities is Thursday night's Annals of Achievement program, set for 8 p.m. in the Social Hall.

Theme for Y-Day Events Chosen; Merchants Assist

"Vie for the Y" has been chosen as the theme for Y Day, May 5. Students, faculty, and townspeople will join in making the day one of the biggest campus activities of the year.

From the traditional cleaning of the Y to the beautifying of the campus, students and faculty members will work side by side. Local businesses are furnishing much of the equipment and materials to be used. Shovels, rakes, axes, trucks, and lime buckets will be supplied by Provo City department of buildings and grounds.

Materials such as lime and salt will be donated by the Tri-State Lumber Co., Spear Lumber Co., Provo Lumber and Hardware Co., Lakeside Lime and Stone Co., Utah Valley Builders' Supply Co., and Utah Ice and Storage Co.

Work will commence at 8 a.m. At noon lunch will be served in the stadium to all who participate in the clean-up work. Faculty and students will match "wits" at greased pig chases, a tug of war through a hose, relays, and races in the afternoon.

A new feature this year will be the three-ring dance in the evening. Three barbecue pits of the family life units will be used with a different kind of dancing in each pit.

STEREOPHONIC SOUND—The birthday of stereophonic sound projection will be celebrated in assembly today, when Dr. Harvey Fletcher is honored. Dr. Fletcher and Neil Sorensen are shown working in laboratory with same loudspeaker used 21 years ago when Dr. Fletcher was engineer in charge of first demonstration.

Students: Get Texts Now Or Go Without Books

Students who have not purchased books for spring quarter, are taking a chance of attending classes without them, reported Harold Western, textbook section manager.

Text books are presently being sent back to the publishers, and each day they will have fewer books to sell.

The reason books are being returned is because the publishers will allow only 60 days from the date of sales to the date they must be returned.

Noted Inventor, Dr. Fletcher Honored Today

Dr. Harvey Fletcher, director of research, will be honored at today's assembly for the part he played in the development of stereophonic sound, which is currently being used in cinemascope movies.

This assembly will be a demonstration of how stereophonic sound works and in many ways will be a duplicate of the first demonstration of the system on April 27, 1933. That first demonstration was under the direction of Dr. Fletcher, who was at that time director of acoustical research at the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

To Be Broadcast

Part of the program will be conducted from the Smith Auditorium. It will be broadcast in the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse through five loudspeakers spread across the main floor of the Fieldhouse.

Some of the items scheduled on the program in the Auditorium that will illustrate the use of stereophonic sound are an orchestra number, a vocal solo with the soloist walking from one side of the stage to the other, a skit, and a trumpet solo.

Birthday Celebration

Dr. Wayne B. Hales will be in charge of the committee that has prepared the program to honor the 21st birthday of stereophonic sound and Dr. Fletcher, one of the pioneers in its development.

Other members of the committee are Prof. Stewart Grow, Dr. John Halliday, Dr. Harold I. Hansen, Leland Perry, Francis Boyer, Arch Madsen ,and Pres. Harvey Taylor.

Call Issued for Men To Serve On Council

AMS president Jack Zenger today issued a call for all men who desire to serve on the Associated Men Students council. Interviews of choose 12 men will be held Wednesday in the Executive Council room from 1-4 p.m.

AMS council serves as an advisory group to the president, and members direct certain functions and annual activities.

Interested applicants who cannot appear during the scheduled hours may make appointments with Jack Zenger, Rex Lee or Bob Rees.

Military Ball Set; Coed Sponsors Compete for Title

"Par Avion, Hollywood" is theme of the third annual Military Ball, it was announced late last week by chairman Gordon Orme. The dance will be highlighted by the crowning of a queen, chosen by the members of the AFROTC from the ranks of the Sponsor Corps.

Queen candidates are: Lynn Anne Taylor, Provo; Juna Abbott, Boise; Marcia Mattice, Pima, Ariz.; Laura Schenk, Nyssa, Ore.; Nina Leishman, Provo; and Lois Humphries, American Fork.

Candidates were voted upon by members of the Corps, and three finalists will be selected by members of the Arnold Air Society.

Slated for May 7 in the East Provo Stake House, the dance will feature the music of Al Sedgley and his orchestra. According to reports, Sedgley's orchestra is rated near the top in the intermountain area. He has been the featured band at the Avalon ballroom in Salt Lake City, for some time.

COLLEGE DEAN—Reuben D. Law, dean of the College of Education, directs activities for one of the most important divisions if the university. Shown with his is Berniece Croft, his secretary.

Know Your University . . .

Administrators, Teachers Study In Education College

by Colleen Young — Universe Editorial Associate

College of Education has as its principal function the educating of teachers, counselors, principals, supervisors, superintendents, and other professional education workers.

It offers courses leading to Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, and advanced degrees in the professional fields of education. This college, which claims 1,012 students, is one of the largest and most important at Brigham Young University.

College of Education meets the requirements of Utah's State Board of Education for elementary and secondary teacher certification, and for certificates in counseling administration and supervision.

Work leading to such certificates in other states and nations may also be taken at this university.

According to Reuben D. Law, who has been dean of the college for eight years, the important authority to teach is not a right to be demanded by any citizen. It is a privilege granted to the individual by society on the basis of worthiness and scholarship.

In connection with the departments of elementary and secondary education, BYU maintains modern elementary and secondary schools, two of which are located on the lower campus, with classes from kindergarten to the twelfth grade. In these schools, prospective teachers gain experience in teaching with helpful guidance and supervision.

A teacher placement bureau is also part of this college. Along with helping prospective teachers, it also aids experienced ones, and serves administrators in school districts and institutions where professional personnel are desired.

Students who register in the College of Education are expected to maintain high standards of morality, personal integrity, cleanliness of living, and civic responsibility comparable to the better elements of the community. Especially should this be true of all who expect to be recommended through BYU, since its graduates are world-famous for their high ideals and clean living.

More students are graduating from the College of Education this spring than from any other college on campus. According to Dean Law, this has been true for several years.

Having been inconveniently located on lower campus in crowded quarters for 75 years, the college is looking forward to moving into the David O. McKay Building on upper campus next fall. Some departments are already operating on upper campus.

Physicists Speakes at Meet

Dr. Harvey Fletcher, physicist, will attend a convention of the National Association of Manufacturers at University of Utah today.

Dr. Fletcher is to participate in a panel discussion along with educators and industrial leaders, including Dr. Carl J. Christensen, a BYU graduate and a dean at the University of Utah. Moderator will be Dr. A. Ray Olpin, pdesident of the U of U.

Two of Education Staff Attend Minnesota Meet

Miss Jennie Campbell and Mrs. Lillian A. Christensen, elementary education faculty members, are attending the Association for Childhood Education International convention at St. Paul, Minn.

Also attending are Margene Frank, Marilyn Brown, Dixie Lou Tuttle, Leslie Nielsen, and Mary Lind Irons, president of the Provo chapter of the A.C.E.I.

The two faculty members are actively participating in the convention by leading special group discussions in their particular sections.

Loyal Americans Described By Chaplain Taylor

Colonel Robert P. Taylor, staff chaplain for the Air University and major command chaplain for the AFROTC units in the United States, addressed Wing 1 cadets Thursday afternoon.

Basing his address around a description of four kinds of citizens, Chaplain Taylor described the majority of Americans as "loyal, true, and willing to fight to defend their heritage." He also stated that there a few citizens of this country who are unable financially to gain the education necessary to understand our present problems, that there are those who will not defend our nations, and that thre are even those who would be traitors to our nation.

Chaplain Taylor stressed the need for intelligent, trustworthy officers in the United States Air Force, and the responsibility vested in the members of the armed forces.

A prisoner of the Japanese for 43 months during World War II, Chaplain Taylor wears the Distinguished Service Medal and the Bronze Star. This former decoration is given only for galantry in action against an "armed enemy."

According to Lt. Col. Jesse E. Stay, commanding officer of the detachment, Chaplain Taylor was impressed with the fact that detachment personnel are stressing that graduates wll make better officers if they live up to the standards of the Church, and are giving lectures along that line.

Show For Handicapped Aired

The Open Door, a new weekly radio program on KCSU, directed by John Roderick, a graduate student, is devoted to the handicapped individuals of Utah County.

Roderick, who suffers from a handicap, is editor of the Frontier Magazine, and a graduate of the Utah State Agricultural College, majoring in journalism.

The program is broadcast at 2:30 each Saturday afternoon.

Lambda Delta Sigma Fraternity Chooses Next Year's Officers

"Lambda Delta Sigma has a great future . . . It has a spirituality to offer that no other organization on campus can give," stated Gale Mecham following his election as Executive President of the Zeta Chapter of Lambda Delta Sigma for 1954-55.

He succeeds Rao Lindsay of Dingle, Ida., in the presidential job.

Other officers elected are: first vice president—service, Pat Bischoff; second vice president—social, Delsa Durfee; third vice president—pledge, Lorraine Castagno; secretary, Mary Jane Christensen; treasurer, Bayard Taylor.

Mecham, senior, Thatcher, Ariz., has served a two-year mission in the East Central States. He has been president of Alpha Chapter this year.

Miss Bischoff, Salt Lake City, is a senior. She is former Revelator editor, co-director of the Lambda Delta Sigma assembly last year, and was chairman for various activities throughout the year. She has been a member of Psi chapter and is replacing Ruth Benson of Silver Springs, Md.

Francis LeBaron, Barnwell, Alta., Canada, is handing the duties of his office to Delsa Durfee, a sophomore from Randlett, Utah. Miss Durfee labored in the Uintah Basin Indian Mission for two years. She was pledge mistress of Psi chapter.

Miss Castagno, a junior from Tooele, has been affiliated with Psi chapter. She served as general athletic director for girls. She is taking over the office from Dorothy Bartels.

Marlene Kemper, Cranford, Alta., Canada, is relinquishing her office to Mary Jane Christensen. Miss Christensen, a sophomore from Manila, Utah, has been Psi Chapter secretary.

Bayard Taylor, Salt Lake City, is a junior. He served two years in the army, and is a transfer student from the University of Utah, where he was active in Lambda Delta Sigma. He is taking over money matters from Ralph Clarke, Salt Lake City.

Freshmen To Publish First Class Scrapbook

Projects and parties of the freshman class will be recorded in the new Class Scrapbook, being planned, said Rex Lee, frosh president.

Class members interested in serving as editor, assistant editor or on the staff may sign their names in the student coordinator's office. Applicants will be interviewed by the class council.

The scrapbook will be one to which future freshman classes may add the record of their activities, Lee announced.

Military Ball

The assembly, which will be held the Thursday preceding the dance, will have the same theme as the ball. Under the dirction of Ray Colovich, the assembly will depict an imaginary flight to Hollywood by AFROTC members interested in making a film. Among other numbers, the Cadet Drill team, the AFROTC chorus and the Cadet band will appear.

Only cadets in uniform will be admitted to the ball, and the dance will be formal for girls. Cost is $2 per couple.

Invitations have been sent to high ranking military personnel, hut no replies have as yet been received.

QUEEN CANDIDATES—One of these six coeds will reign as queen over the forthcoming Military Ball, scheduled May 7. Chosen from ranks of the Sponsor Corps by ROTC, finalists are, front, left to right, Lynn Anne Taylor and Juna Abbott. On back rom are Marcia Mattice, Laura Schenk, Nina Leishman, and Lois Humphries. This will be the third annual AFROTC Military Ball.

Talent of the Week To Be On Radio

"Stars of Tomorrow" is the new radio show which will feature the talent of the week in the Universe, according to an announcement by Carma Collett, KBYU director.

Broadcast time for the new 15 minute program is Thursday at 8 p.m.

Talent for the next six programs has been announced, Bud Jones and Dan Tucker, novelty music duet; Barbara Benson and Dick Robison; "Three Jacks and a Ball"; "Y-o-lins"; Three Guys and a Gal; and John Radyn.

Another new show is starting Thursday at 8:15 p.m. This show will be a competitive discussion of world problems among the social units. The groups, while in separate studios, will be asked questions. The group answering the questions most satisfactorily will be the winner of the week.

At the end of the series of programs, finals will be held to determine the winner.

Carma Collett and Larry Peterson are working together to produce the shows.

Scholarships Offered To Undergraduates

Two $400 scholarships for undergraduate students have been offered by the Standard Oil Co. of California under their leadership scholarship program.

These scholarships will be administered through the University Scholarship committee. They are to be awarded on the basis of leadership qualities, scholastic achievements and financial need.

Applications for these scholarship may be obtained in Professor Selby Clark's office in Maeser building. Two $400 scholarships will be offered for two consecutive school years.

Educator to Lecture

Mrs. Stella H. Oaks, supervisor of general education for Provo city schools, will discuss objectives and procedures in community relations before the journalism-business administration class in public relations Wednesday morning.

Therapy Classes Start This Week For P. E. Majors

Classwork for physical education majors and physical therapy students is expected to start this week at the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse

Dr. Ariel L. Williams, head of the Health Center, will direct the kinesiology laboratory and the physical therapy division These particular facilities will be used for remedial work with physical abnormalities.

Bodybuilding with weightlifting appartus is now being taught in the cloak room off the oval indoor track on the ground floor These facilities are better because of extra space and better air circulation when the drop sides are elevated during warm weather

Aeronautical bomb hoists have been installed in the new weight lifting room enabling the clothes racks to be hoisted to the ceiling by cables In this way, the area can still be used as a public cloak room in the performance of a double duty, with the athletic equipment aligned against the walls

Biology Study To Be Offered

Photosynthesis is one of three courses in microbiology offered by the summer school The guest instructor will be Dr. Leo P. Vernon from the Washington University in St. Louis, Mo

Photosynthesis is the process by which green plants make food. The course will be concerned with the green, and purple bacteria which are necessary for photosynthesis. Dr. Vernon has done extensive research in studying purple bacteria, said J. V. Beck, bacteriology professor.

Other bacteriology courses in the summer school are general bacteriology and a course in sanitation and public health. Dr Don Larson will be principal of the bacteriology courses

Spring Flowers Bloom; Spring Fever Reigns

by Kathryn Haycock — Universe Staff Writer

Spring has at last burst upon campus Signs of its arrival are found everywhere as botanical evidences appear in various forms at conspicuous places over the entirety of the campus

One hint of spring is the increased number of students loafing in the sunshine on the cool damp new lawns Groups dotting the patches of lawn form as colorful a scene as the flowers gaily gracing the landscape

As inevitable as the first robin, is the coeds' annual ritual of exchanging warm, woolen skirts for crisp, crackling spring and summer cotton ensembles Not to be outdone, the man of the campus strolls about sporting his new short-sleeved summer togs

Flowering shrubs and plants are rivaled by the artificial flowers found in the hair, on the skirts and blouses, or brightening up the purses of the fashion-wise coed Colorful nosegays not only sway in the breeze, but also bob up and down in the crowds of students sauntering to class

Scenes around the boys dormitory and the girls family life units add to the proof of spring's arrival Ardent sun worshippers, already, are lying prostrate with smeared skins in the hope of inducing the sun to add a brilliant red or colorful tan to their pale countenances

The order of the day seems to tend more and more toward lazy lack-a-daisical loafing, commonly excused as cases of spring fever, instead of the refreshing atmosphere of winter Even the cheery "Y-Hi" is being replaced by a half-hearted yawn.

Students and nature are responding to the hum-drum tune Spring is playing Cool, colorful clothes and long siestas in the sun top the agenda as the entire studentbody greet the long awaited warm weather.

Ass't Professor Leads Research

Angus Blackham, assistant chemistry professor, is conducting research in hydro-carbon oxidation, to aid in development of better engine designs, more economical use of gasoline, and other benefits

He is observing how the compounds in gasoline react with oxygen in a car motor, providing the energy which moves the car

Helping Blackham in this research are graduate students Robert Bohm, Belmont, Calif., and Grant Wilson, Provo

Blackham returned recently from the semi-annual American Chemical Society Convention in Kansas City, Mo. He attended the society's division on chemistry education, and petroleum chemistry

Campus Clubs Plan West Days

First annual "Y Western Days" will be held May 17-22, It will be co-sponsored by the Arizona, Agricultural and Rodeo Clubs

A queen and two attendants will reign over the week's activities They will be chosen on the basis of appearance, personality, and riding ability The contest will be held May 10, at 2 p.m. north of the football stadium

Activities of the week will include a livestock show, two performances of the Intercollegiate rodeo, a western dance, and other activities.

Candidates for rodeo queen must submit their names and addresses to the Rodeo Club by May 7 They may place them in the club mailbox in the Student Organization Room, Herald R Clark Student Service Center. Horses will be furnished for the contest.

The queen and her attendants will ride in the grand entry of both rodeo performances, and will be introduced to the crowd

DR. HARVEY FLETCHER

Dr. Harvey Fletcher will be honored today in the devotional assembly. Many of his inventions and scientific contributions will be exhibited and explained. Brigham Young University is proud to number this great scientist among its alumni and faculty members.

Every student at this university would do well to emulate the hard-work and determination of Dr. Fletcher. Whether you are enrolled in College of Commerce, College of Fine Arts, or plan to continue studies in the new College of Physical and Engineering Science, of which Dr. Fletcher is acting dean, you may be assured of success, if you follow the one royal road—of honest, conscientious work.

Dr. Fletcher began his hard work as an undergraduate student in this university. He completed the four year course in three years, proposed to, and married his sweetheart, packed his bags and headed for the University of Chicago.

Perhaps you can imagine his dismay, when university officials hesitated about admitting him. They relented, somewhat dubious of this young man who had but three years of college experience. He was admitted on condition of completing certain undergraduate courses.

But, in three years, he completed that phase of his studies, and collaborated with Robert A. Millikin in isolating a single electron to demonstrate its atomic nature for which Millikin won the Nobel prize—and received his Ph.D. degree with the first summa cum laude (highest honors) ever awarded by the physics department of University of Chicago.

Since that time, Dr. Fletcher has been awarded five honorary degrees, including one from Columbia University.

After graduation he returned to Provo and became the first professor at BYU with a Ph.D. degree. Among his students were the late Dr. Carl F. Eyring, Dr. Wayne B. Hales, professor of physics and mathematics; Dr. Milton Marshall, professor of physics; Joseph K. Nicholes, professor of chemistry, all of whom have served or now serve on the faculty.

Dr. Fletcher spent 33 years working at Western Electric laboratory, later the Bell Laboratory. He helped found the Acoustical Society of America and was its first president. Dr. Fletcher and Thomas A. Edison, are the only honorary members named to the society.

Now, at an age when most men would have retired, Dr. Fletcher continues his labors, building Brigham Young University, and its new engineering school. His work is always well-done; may we follow his example and do ours as well.

BULLETIN BOARD

This space is reserved for announcements affecting the whole studentbody. Notices for organizations are considered part of the Inter-Organizational Council and will be included on the society page. Deadlines for the Bulletin Board are: Tuesday's paper, Friday 5:30 p.m.; Thursday's paper, Tuesday noon.

Universe Editor and Business Manager

Students interested in making application for positions of Editor and Business Manager of the Universe for summer quarter are requested to call at the journalism department before May 7.

The Universe will be published once a week during summer quarter which begins June 14. Summer issues will have four pages.

Out-of-Town Social Events

All social units planning out-of-town socials during spring quarter should discuss their plans with Dr. Isaksen before scheduling the event, according to word received from the co-ordinators office.

Pick up Pix

All candidates and queen contestants who left pictures at the student co-ordinator's office during the year, should pick them up immediately, reports Dr. Henry L. Isaksen.

Safety Valve

by the Readers

Lower . . . ?

Dear Brother Rodeback:

Last week you wrote a letter to Safety Valve that stirred my interest. You asked, "Why don't the downtown theatres lower their prices now that their taxes have been cut ten percent?" Well here is why:

Movie prices in this area (and in most others) have not increased for almost ten years. Taxes, in the meantime have increased more than ten percent and have been absorbed by the theatre owners. I think it's only right that the theatre owners get a chance to operate in the black again.

Anoher reason that the prices are not cut is that with the advent of television, movie attendance has dropped so much that a great many of the smaller theatres are now closed. Those most affected have been the neighborhood theatres. I say let them continue to charge the same—we couldn't go to the movies more often if they were only ten percent cheaper.

Prices haven't been lowered in Salt Lake or anyplace else, and they, as a rule, are higher than in Provo.

Richard Hinckley

Lowest . . . ?

Dear Editor:

Every so often, and quite regularly, some misguided misanthrope has to say something about where the world is going.

Last week, the word was received about elections. It seems that having a big hurrah is not for Democrats. Even after a dismal, funeral-like primary compaign sputtered, and a more cheery atmosphere prevailed in the finals, these reformers aren't convinced.

What's wrong with the argument that the man with the best campaign should be elected? Elect the manager instead? No, a leader is a poor, dumb bloke that can get the smarter guys to work for bim and not for themselves. That's true leadership.

Based on past performances, I think campaigning on big feet is commendable. A voter wants to be sure his candidate will not suffer from a disease known as "foot in mouth."

Now, as for Pogo. I personally don't get it. It's beyond me; but on good authority, I learn that he has his finger on the marrow of most human foibles. So, why argue with millions? If Pogo says, then Pogo must know.

Whatever the Democratic process is, it isn't likely to flourish if you kill fun. People I know take an interest in fun.

So, here's for more fun and lots of it.

Arthur Hardy

P. S.: No offense is meant to any misguided misanthrope.

It's The Season

By Dallas Burnett

Everybody has their favorite season! Some like the long, hot days of summer. Others prefer a cloak of white over the landscape with its accompanying winter sports. Many people live for the crisp autumn, and its basketful of colors and crunching of leaves underfoot.

But a good few of us will take the gentle, warm winds of spring, the slow explosion of green over the landscape, the hint of bright colors in the flower beds, and the brilliant whites, pinks, and reds in the orchards.

Everbody to their own tastes, but there is something about spring that throws a whole new picture on the screen of life.

Dan'l the Bowman

Either because of fact or fancy, spring has become the season of romance. Dan Cupid is supposed to be on the rampage during these few months of the year. And, most naturally, he'll probably find good hunting on the BYU campus. Even Pres. J. Reuben Clark referred to the Y campus as the "Happy Hunting Grounds."

Many people on campus tend to be a little ashamed of the reputation BYU has acquired as the starting place for many and many a betrothal. Most normal young people intend to get married, so where could a better place be mound to take care of that little problem than right here. And you'd think that the more marriages that came out of BYU, the happier everyone would be, but there are still those who dislike the reputation we've acquired.

A Scotch Romance

Fortunately, not very many of the local college men are like Sandy the Scotchman Pres. David O. McKay told about, or there wouldn't be too many romances to worry about.

It seems that MacDonald had a romantic problem, so he went to his friend Sandy and said, "I'm verra much worried Sandy. I dinna ken wether to marry a rich widow whom I do not love, or marry a puir lass of whom I'm verra fond."

Sandy replied, "You'd better follow the promptin's o' yer heart, MacDonald."

"All right," said MacDonald, "I'll do it. I'll marry the puir lass."

"In that case," said Sandy, "would you mind giving me the address of the widow?"

Enjoy the Weather

The best advice for any young man whose fancy might turn to certain thoughts, however, is to enjoy the weather. It's more predictable than most women, and a lot easier to get along with, or without.

'Trousseau Treasures' Display Is a Feature of Women's Week

by Carolyn Wallis - Universe Society Editor

Brides and weddings have always been referred to with special romantic excitement through the ages. Since it is is the most important step taken in life it has been highlighted during one of the days of Women's Week.

Exhibits from Stores

A display of Trousseau Treasures will bring traditional and new meaning in planning for heads to beautify a new home. Displays from downtown stores will be exhibited in the Joseph Smith banquet hall between 2 and 5 p.m. this afternoon.

Lecture and Discussion

Miss Ethel L. Jewell will give a talk at 2:30 p.m. on correct procedures in the receiving lines and in reception arrangements and will lead a discussion and answer questions until 4 p.m. on any problems of planning for the wedding.

The choice of patterns in china, silver and srystal will be most exciting when confronted with multitude of styles, sizes and shapes designed to suit any taste. Electrical appliances are always a problem when beginning a new home and will be shown and demonstrated as to quality and durability.

Nothing will be left out. Announcements, thank you notes and the various types of printing suggestions will be offered, besides an arrangement of types of jewelry for any member of the bridal party. All items shown will be helpful gift suggestions if you yourself are not an immediate bridal prospect as yet.

New Departmental Club Organized

A new departmental club, the Industrial Arts club, is being organized. Grant Stephens, senior, Orem, is chairman of a committee to write the club constitution. Other committee members are Ray Leavitt, senior, Las Vegas; Ray Olsen, sophomore, Provo; Blaine Blaylock, freshman, Nyssa, Ore.; and Bruce Gorbutt, sophomore, Lovell, Wyo.

According to Stephens, the purpose of the Industrial Arts club is to make students aware of the Industrial Arts department. One of the aims of the club is a permanent display in the Physical Science building lobby of articles made by students in Industrial Arts classes.

The club plans to sponsor an exhibit of the best articles made by students in an industrial show at the end of the year.

Stephens said that the purpose of the Industrial Arts department is to train teachers for high school and junior high school vocational classes.

Some of the subjects taught in the Industrial Arts program are architectural and industrial drawing, wood-working, metal-working, plastics, upholstery, electrical work, and many others.

Diamond Jubilee

by Mary Alice Sauls — Universe Society Writer

Easter Sunday was the romantic day when Salt Laker Betty Lynn Jones received a beautiful diamond from Don Brooks who also hails from Utah's capital city. Betty is a sophomore and Sponsor Corps member.

Letty Lou Lant, active Cougarette and Cami Los affiliate, is announcing her engagement to Dave Folkman, a graduate who is now in flight training in Missouri. Dave was active in school activities while a member of the ROTC and Bricker social unit. Plans are underway for a July wedding.

Another engagement being made known is that of Loran Reynolds and Wilma Jacklin. Loran is a junior student who hails from Iowa. June 8 has been set as the marriage date.

Helen Jolley is wearing a diamond which was recently given to her by Dar Smith. Helen has been serving as activity editor of the Banyan this year. Both she and Dar are junior students who come from southern Utah.

Student Program Bureau workers, Muriel Gale and Loren Nichols are among the latest engaged couples. Muriel, a Cougarette and frosh cheerleader, is rushing O. S. Trovata, while Loren is teaching dancing after completing studies in New York. He is a Val Hyric affiliate.

Two ToKalons caught the spring feeling in the air and were presented with sparkling diamonds recently. Jean Starley, senior, is engaged to Horace Coultrin, both from Burley, Ida., and Provo residents, Nyra Colvin and Andy Terry are also cupid's victims.

Only one pinning is in the news this week. Barry Fisher, an active Athenian, gave his pin to Pat Quist, a freshman from California.

Campus Hayseed Hoedown

Saturday night, Campus Branch is holding "Hayseed Hoedown" beginning at 8:30 p.m. The levi-gingham affair is to add a final touch to the day of working on the welfare project.

The Rainbow Gardens has been scheduled for the free square and round dancing with a professional caller.

Blood Donors Top Quota

Dr. Ariel Williams, head of the Health Center, reported that the recent visit of the Bloodmobile to campus netted 350 pints of blood. The goal was 200 pints.

BEST IN CHINA—Eleanor Bergstedt, Salt Lake City, and JoAnn Gay, Provo are showing a few of the patterns of china which will be on display at the AWS Trouseau Treasures today.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

by Verla Crockett - Universe Society Writer

Now is the time for all good members of the SNOW-SANPETE CLUB and their friends to come to the swimming party at Park Ro-She tomorrow night. Free swimming instruction will be afforded by Professor Bruce Brockbank. Meet in the Smith lobby at 6:45 for transportation. Anyone with a car is urged to bring it. Bring a lunch! A program has been planned for the lunch period. Forty cents is the cost for this party.

VIKINGS will hold a regular business meeting Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in 360 B. Election of new officers for 1954-55, and selection of Viking Sweetheart who will be crowned at the dinner-dance. The selection of the sweetheart will be done under the revised procedure. Chuck Clawson is chairman of the annual dinner-dance to be held in Salt Lake City on May 7. Plans for a party are being formulated by Bob Rees. Details of this party will be announced at Thursday's meeting.

The INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB will travel to the University of Colorado for a model UN Assembly on Thursday. Seven colleges will be represented. Each student in attendance will represent a chosen country already within the United Nations, in order that he can take part in the general assembly at which the question discussed will concern the establishing of a review commission to consider revision of the United Nations' charter. Those members going are: Ralph Bergquist, Gary Kay, Rafael Castillo, Eila Tuomenoksa, and Mary Dumas.

The ORGAN GUILD will hold their next meeting at the home of J. J. Keeler, university organist at 141 E. 5 N., Thursday evening at 7:30. Dr. Leon Dallin will speak to the group. Everyone who desires to attend should sign the list on the practice organs in the Smith building before Wednesday morning.

The El Charro Cafe, 148 E. 2 S., Salt Lake City, will be the place of the SPANISH CLUB banquet on May 3. This activity is planned in commemoration of the Mexican national holiday on May 5. Tickets may be purchased from any of the Spanish Club officers or Dr. Wilkins for $1.25. Transportation will be arranged to and from Salt Lake. Time of departure will be announced in Spanish classes.

ATHENIANS' swimming party at Saratoga last Saturday night was under the chairmanship of John Stevens. The Athenians defeated the Vikings by a score of 10 to 12 in a recent quiz contest conducted by KBYU.

Dick Miller and Loyal Hastings were co-chairmen of the TAUSIG dinner-dance recently, in the Starlight Gardens at the Hotel Utah. Music was furnished by the Shelley Hyde combo. Dick Oscarson and Gary Lundberg are co-chairmen to represent the spring quarter pledges in their activities.

GREAT LAKES CLUB will meet Wednesday in 140 Smith at 7:30 p.m. A Y-Day committee member will brief members on jobs. A swimming party is planned for the following Wednesday.

The ARGONAUTS are now rehearsing with the CESTA TIES for their assembly Thursday. After the assembly a party is planned.

The last meeting for the ARIZONA CLUB will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the west lounge of the social hall. Pins will be distributed (Y western days) and "Arizona daze" committees will be filled and elections of next year's officers will be the main business matters.

The monthly meeting of the AMATEUR RADIO CLUB will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. This meeting will feature a discussion and demonstration of the oscilloscope, and plans will be discussed for activities by the amateur club on Y Day. The meeting will be held in room 6 of the Nurse's building, and all amateurs, short wave listeners and friends are invited.

An exchange with O. S. TROVATA and their guests has been planned with the Brickers Wednesday.

Scholastic Unit InitiatesPledges

Thirty freshmen girls were initiated into the Brigham Young University chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary organization, at pledging ceremonies April 22 in the J. S. banquet hall. The initiates became eligible for membership by earning a 2.5 or better scholastic average during their first two quarters of college work. Mrs. Lillian C. Booth, counselor for women, and Miss Carol Oaks, faculty advisor for Alpha Lambda Delta, assisted the officers with the initiation.

Janet Spilsbury, Clarendon, Ill., was elected president of the group for the coming year. Other officers chosen are: Roberta Stevenson, vice-president; Marilyn Maughn, secretary; Francine Russell, treasurer; and Donna Leishman, historian-reporter. Jeanette Boyack, retiring president, will act as junior advisor to the new officers.

The new members include Marva Jeanne Kimball, Anna Johnson, Caren Cottam, Donna Mae Leishman, Stania Lott, Joan Sabin, Lois Moye, Georgia Lea Bullock, Francine Russell, Margaret Hunter, Carol Parkinson, Luana Schow, Evelyn Murray, Inez S. Searle, Loretta Little, Mary Woolston, Barbara Comes, Roberta Stevenson, Maxine Stuart, Janeene Gardner, Nelda Clark, Kathleen Caseman, Janet Spilsbury, Beth Wardell, Carol Atack, LaJuan Holman, Joy Beckstead, Joan Dunn, Patricia dEwards, and Marilyn Maughn.

Bury the Hatchet . . .

Sham Battles Between Units To Be Conducted This Week

This week will be a week of sham battles for the Brickers and Tausigs as they "bury the hatchet" and "smoke the peace pipe" in their annual brotherly love competition.

Brickers and Tausigs, deadly rivals, buried the hatchet and smoked the peace pipe for the first time 23 years ago. Although the latter practice has been discontinued because of certain regulations, the event is celebrated by one week of sham battles every year.

As the first two men's units on campus, Brickers and Tausigs had a great deal of rivalry. With the passage of time the rivalry became more unfriendly than friendly. In order to keep members from burying the hatchet in each other's heads the two units decided to bury it in the dirt.

Hard-Fought Contests

The athletic contests are often real thrillers. This year's basketball game will be held Tuesday night in the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse at 9:30 p.m. Such varsity stars as Harold Christensen, Blaine Anderson and Leon Heaps will see action for the Brickers, while the Tausigs have Dick Horsley, Mac Madsen and Terry Tebbs. Other sports events are softball, volleyball, tennis, golf, bowling and ping pong. Football, too, is played. We find such outstanding men as the Thorpe brothers, Dick Vetterli and Dick Wooten for the Tausigs, while the Brickers will have Paul Mendenhall, Marlo Holland and Von Rasmussen.

Losers Get Wet

Thursday after assembly promises to be a highlight of the week as the units meet in a tug of war on the south side of the Physical Science building. The loser will be greeted by the business end of a fire hose.

The posters which have been plastered about the campus are for the education of the public. Those telling about the Brickers are made by the Tausigs and vice versa. A winning poster will be chosen by the presidents fo O. S. Trovata, Cami Los and ToKalon.

Everyone is encouraged to attend the various contests during the week. Following is a schedule of the events:

Tuesday, 9:30 p.m.—Basketball game.

Wednesday, 5:30 p.m.—Softball game.

Thursday, 11 a.m.—Tug-o-war.

Saturday, 10 a.m.—Football game.

Student Cabinet To Be Chosen

Studentbody cabinet will probably be chosen Wednesday, according to a report by Dixie Robison, first vice president-elect.

Seven cabinet members are to be chosen by the executive council and the excutive council-elect, while one will be filled by the physical education department.

Applications for studentbody chairman of dance and elections committees are now being received.

Other business now being considered by the executive officers include plans for leadership conference and suggstions and recommendations for "BY and U," 1954 edition. Next year's studentbody stationery and sweaters have also been ordered.

Musical Groups To Go On Tour

Four Brigham Young University musical organizations will be on tour in various parts of the United States in May, it was announced this week by the Music department.

A Cappella Choir, Symphony Orchestra, Madrigal Singers, and Opera Workshop Chorus are making tours.

Directed by Newell B. Weight, the a cappella choir has scheduled concerts in Northern California. This will be a repeat visit to areas where they have previously received high critical acclaim for performances. This choir will soon make a second appearance on a national radio network.

Lawrence Sardoni, director, and the Symphony Orchestra are preparing for their concert tour into Oregon and Washington. Previously they met marked success in California.

Washington, D.C., is the destination of Madrigal Singers. Directed by Dr. John R. Halliday, the singers start their eastern tour with a concert in Rifle, Colo. Their final stand will be in the nation's capltol May 13 and 14.

This will be the initial tour for the Opera Workshop Chorus, which was organized by Dr. Don L. Earl at the beginning of the current school year. California is the destination.

Cast Completed For Next Play

Casting has been completed and rehearsals are progressing for Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine," forthcoming production of the Brigham Young University department of speech and dramatic arts.

Directed by Dr. Harold I. Hansen, department chairman, the play is set for presentation May 5-8 in the Joseph Smith auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 each night.

Tickets will be available this week at the Smith Information Booth. Students will be admitted on activity cards and public admission is 75 cents. Public tickets are also available at Hendselman's Music Company.

"Joan of Lorraine" is a play within a play—the story of a company of actors who are presenting a play about Joan of Arc. The story is told through conversations between the actors, as well as from staged scenes.

Cast as Jimmy Masters, the play's producer, is Richard Bentley, Whittier, Calif. June Moncur, Salt Lake City, will play the role of Joan.

Competition Stiffens As 'Mural Teams Make Pennant Bids

With the season at the midway point, intramural softball teams are tightening their ranks in preparation for the pennant race.

In all three leagues it is still definitely anyone's race. In the Skyline loop, the PEM club has a 5-0 record, but they are being pressed by a scrappy Hawaiian Club team who are also without a loss.

The Brickers lead the Big Nine circuit with a 4-0 record behind the able pitching of Wayne Keyes. The Tausigs are in a second place deadlock with the Brigadiers and Vikings.

There's a four-way tie for first place honors in the Western league with second and third place teams pressing the leaders. Teams in first place with 3-1 records include Nyssa Scrubs, Wymount Branch, Vegas Gamblers, and Socks.

Standings up to Wednesday follow.

Schedules Listed For Varied Intra Program

Tennis doubles started last night. The forty entrants are expected to battle it out for several weeks.

Fritz Perkins, BYU fencing instructor, has announced a change in his tournament dates. Fencers must sign in by April 27. Dueling commences April 28.

Volleyball games are in progress, with 16 Division 6 M-Men teams in the area vying for the possibility of competing in a coming All-Church tourney to be held in Salt Lake City.

Swimming competition has been moved up one week to May 14. Two new events will also be on tap. One is an individual medley on a single length each of breaststroking, backstroking, and free-styling. The other new event will be a three-man medley relay of 200 yards in the 33 1/3 yard long Park Ro-She pool.

Participants for the coming intramural track competition are advised to get into their best form for the starting gun on May 20. Bill Higgins, transfer student from the University of Nevada will demonstrate javelin throwing. Bill, a future varsity candidate, has hurled the pole some 218 feet.

Boyd Lake, intramural director, requests that athletes look at the bulletin boards at the southwest corner of the Brimhall building and in the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse. In the past, the need for rescheduling activities has been excessive.

Provo Is Selected Convention Site

Officers and members of Delta Phi honorary fraternity from eight campus chapters in Utah, Idaho and Arizona will meet at Brigham Young University, May 1 and 2, in the organization's annual convention.

The fraternity, which is composed of returned missionaries attending college, includes chapters at BYU, University of Utah, Utah State Agricultural College, Weber College, College of Southern Utah, Idaho State College, Ricks College and Arizona State College.

Business sessions of the national council of the group will open at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Joseph Smith building, under direction of Harold H. Smith, Heber, grand president. Smith was named head of the fraternity in December to fill the unexpired term of the late Matthew Cowley.

Principal items of the annual meeting will be consideration of constitutional changes for the organization and election of a president and two vice presidents.

A formal dinner and dance will be held Saturday for members alumni and guests at the BYU Social Hall, Val Jackson, Kanab, as chairman. A devotional service will be held Sunday morning as the concluding session.

Other Delta Phi executive council members are Avard W. Booth, Salt Lake City, vice president; Milton R. Hunter, LDS first council of seventy, historian; J. Wyley Sessions, Provo, tribune; Richard Clayton, Salt Lake City, secretary; Oliver R. Smith, Provo, editor.

Four BYU Pugilists Will Perform In Magic Valley

Four Brigham Young University boxing team members have been invited to Twin Falls, Ida., Thursday by the Magic Valley Elks club.

This invitation was extended because of the fine performance exhibited by these young pugilists in the recent Amateur Athletic Union tournament at Salt Lake City.

Two BYU team members will be meeting the same opponents who beat them in the finals of the AAU. These fighters are Irv Hansen and Tim Patterson. Also, Jerry Lundberg, who was beaten in the AAU Heavyweight title match, challenged his opponent to a return match but was refused a bout. It is uncertain as yet who will be matched, Lundberg or Don Bybee, the other member of the squad.

Coach Art Saxell will travel with the team as will trainer Dave Gordon.

All expenses for the trip will be defrayed by the Magic Valley Elks Club.

Forensic Association Sets Annual Dinner

The annual Forensic dinner will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Dr. J. LaVar Bateman, 1212 Ash Avenue. All students who have participated in forensic activities and forensic council members and their wives are invited.

Next year's forensic officers will be elected at the dinner. They include forensic manager, assistant manager, secretary, and publicity director.

Applications for manager have been received and approved by the forensic council. The forensic association members will vote on those approved candidates for manager. Other officers will be nominated and elected at the dinner.

Plans for next year's forensic activities will be discussed. Also a summary of this year's activities will be given.

Records Fall As Prep School Cindermen Perform In 41st Annual BYU Track Event

Everything, including the weather, cooperated Saturday as nearly 1000 athletes competed in the finals of the 41st Annual BYU invitational track and field meet and relay carnival.

Six new records were set down in the books and two more were tied, although one of these was not allowed because it came in a sprint with a '-mile wind at the runner's back.

South Scores Win

South High of Salt Lake City came through with surprising strength to win class A honors, with five first places and a tie for the sixth. Literally right on the heels of the South thinclads was a scrappy crew from Las Vegas, Nev. The Nevadans, sporting flashy Wilbur Harris, came through with four firsts and two ties for the front slot. Harris tied the record for the 100-yard dash set in 1937 by Sy Ellsworth, but his :09.9 second time was disallowed because of wind.

A North Sevier thinclad, Melvin Wilkes, outdistanced a field of 13 to win honors in the all-around athlete championship. The contestants competed in nine events including high jump, discus, pole vault, 440-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 180-yard high hurdles, shot put, broad jump and javelin. Wilkes amassed a total of 5,786 points. In the all-around competition, Wilkes bested the 180-low hurdle mark set by Wayne Bithel of Sauth last year. The new mark, a tenth second faster, is 20.5. Nyle McFarlane of Jordan chucked the shot 44'4½" to set a new record in all-around events.

Ricks All the Way

Ricks College of Rexburg, Ida., seemed unbeatable in junior college competition as they walked off with seven first place medals. College of Southern Utah came through with four marks in the gold medal column for second spot.

As usual, the special events portion of the program gave the crowd some of its greatest thrills. Olympic star Bill Wilson of San Diego electrified the crowd with javelin tosses better than 225 feet. Chuck Higgins, a BYU wand hurler, was definitely not to be discounted as he threw the pointed stick 215 feet.

Blue-White Mile

It was all blue and white at the finish line of the exhibition mile run as the cinder twins Sherald James and Wayne Lundell finished first in a dead heat and Cougar Walt Steffensen shot across in the second place spot. Dr. Cherry Robbins, found the mountain air too thin and the season too young for any top-flight running. Winning time for the exhibition mile was 4:30.8.

In other special events, Art Barnard, Los Angeles Athletic Club, whipped over the high hurdles in a respectable :14.9 with BYU sophomore Willard Herschi just a stride behind. Barnard tried his luck in the special 440-yard dash but found the altitude and two speedy BYU thinclads too much. The Y runners, Ray Brown and John Benson, were well in the lead at the finish line. Brown won the event with a :50.6 mark.

Fuenning Runs

Former Cougar flash Dick Fuenning did the century dash in :09.8 coming from behind to edge BYU frosh Harry Anderson.

In the class B competition, a fast crew from Beaver High school toop top honors with four first places.

In the record department, new marks were chalked up by Keith Featherstone of South in the discus at 152 ft. 8½ inches; Elvis Young, Las Vegas, broad jump at 21 ft. 11¾ in., and by the South High mile relay team who pushed the time down to 3:34.1. A Mesa, Ariz., jumper naved Leavitt, left his name on the junior college high jump record with a 6 ft. 2¾ in. mark. Two other marks were recorded in the all-around competition by Wilkes and McFarlane.

FLEET FOOTED ALUMNI—Dick Fuenning, former BYU cinder great, edged freshman Cougar Harry Anderson in the special event 100-yard dash Saturday at the 41st BYU Invitational.

Cougars-Utah State Split Double Bill At Logan

The Brigham Young baseballers met a tidal wave at Logan, last Friday, as the Utah State Aggies flowed over the Cougars, 11-2, in the first game of a twin bill. The Cats managed to stay high, and somewhat dry, atop the Skyline standings though, by sinking the Aggies, 6-5, in the nightcap.

Errors Tell Story

The Cougars were forced to weather the storm of Aggie base hits in their first encounter, as the Staters pounded Cat chuckers, Morris Jackman and Lamar Williams, for ten safeties; while the losers were comitting a like number of errors in the field.

Six errors, four in a row, gave the Ags for four markers in the fourth frame, as they scored without the aid of a single base hit. Two other big innings netted the Loganites seven more to add to their total of unearned tallies.

Clouting Cougar

Centerfielder Ralph Morgan salvaged something from the wreckage, by pasting a double and triple in three trips. Morgan scored the Cats' first run in the first with a leadoff three-bagger, followed by Mick Eggertson's squeeze bunt.

Four last-inning singles scored three runs to give the Cougars a hard earned victory in the second game, 6-5, as hurler Lynn Jones donned the role of fireman and sunk the Aggies lower in the league cellar.

Cougars Rally

Going into the final frame, Utah State led, 5-3. With the bases loaded and two down, Cougar first-sacker Dave Lewis delivered a two-run single to tie the score. Lynn Foster, the club's leading hitter, followed suit with his second hit to score Phil Oyler with the winning marker.

The Cougars ran into trouble in the fifth, when four straight singles for the Aggies pushed across three scores off Rich Toolson to knock the hurler from the box. Jones then took over to put the Aggies down in order the last two innings.

Y Netters Clobber Utah State, 8-1

Brigham Young's racquet squad Wednesday trounced netters from Utah State 8-1 on the Cougar's home courts.

Bouncing back from their hard-fought loss to the Utah Utes, the Cougars were sparked by Bob Kirkpatrick and sophomore Ed Pinegar, who won victories in singles competition and then teamed up to win in doubles play.

Summary:

In singles matches Kirkpatrick defeated Ivan Christensen, USAC, 6-0, 6-1 Pinegar defeated Glen Peterson, USAC, 6-2, 7-5. Harold Christensen, BYU, defeated Don Larsen, USAC, 6-2, 7-5 Gary Madsen, BYU, defeated Sid Jones, USAC, 6-4, 6-0.

In doubles matches Pinegar-Kirkpatrick defeated Christensen-Wortley, USAC, 6-2, 6-2 Udell Clegg-Morrie Ballif, BYU, defeated Larsen-Peterson, USAC, 6-4, 6-4

The Aggies single win came in doubles when Don Larsen and Kent Payne defeated Max Frampton and Jim Hill, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1.

ON THE SIDELINE

by Jack Nelson

That track and field extravaganza last week-end, the BYU invitational, was a real spectacle. Some 2000 athletes from Utah, Idaho, Nevada, and Arizona were in there plugging on the glory trail.

Some of the exhibitionists from the coast didn't fare so well Saturday. BYU's Lundell and James finished, as usual, in a dead heat in the exhibition mile to beat out Cherry Robbins of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who finished fourth. Then in the 440 special event, Ray Brown and John Benson of the Cougars beat Art Barnard, who is training for the hurdles in the next Olympics, to the tape by quite a distance. Their losses were blamed on the altitude and probably quite justifiably so. Nevertheless, some of the Y distance men would stack up well with anyone in the country.

BYU Loses Great Sprinter

Talked with Dick Fuenning Saturday, one of the great BYU sprinters of all time. Fuenning ran the hundred last year consistently at :9.6 and rated fifth in the nation in that dash for much of the year. He would have had another year's eligibility here had he rturned this year. H wanted to come back but he needed a job to do it, as the guy has a wife and two kids to bring home the bacon to. He wrote up two months in advance but couldn't find a job. So he's student teaching in Arizona now near his home, but he still wants to come back here and teach.

Seems like a cryin' shame to lose a great sprinter because someone couldn't find him a job up here, doesn't it? Great teams and reputations are made and lost by incidents like that.

Rodeo Team Rides High

Keep your eye on the BYU rodeo team this year. Last week at Oregon State they took scond in comptition with the major coast schools. Grant Speed, a long-legged BYU student with a Texas drawl, took All-Round Cowboy honors.

This is only BYU's second year of rodeo competition, but last year the team made the nationals at Abilene, Texas, and finished sixth in the nation. They figure to do even better this year. Right now they're at Washington State.

By the way, if you like rodeos, or have never seen one, don't miss BYU's show in the middle of May. If you have the idea that college rodeos are tame, think again. You'll see some of the wildest, snortinest, meanest bulls you ever saw! Likewise for the cowboys.

Understand that Chuck Woodworth, who started boxing to work his way through college, is waiting word from his manager on a deal where he may fight an exhibition with Ezzard Charles. If the deal comes through, he'll meet Charles in Denver Thursday for the Damon Runyan Cancer fund. It would dang well be a feather in Chuck's caps to show well against him. After all, Charles is fighting for the heavyweight championship of the world in June.

Talent of the Week . . .

Popular Campus Hillbillies 'Strut Their Stuff' on Stage

by Gary Rummler — Universe Staff Writer

From out of the south comes this week's group of musicians who have been spotlighted as the talent of the week.

They are the Hillbilly Band led by Grant Thomas, and 16 square dancers with Jim Cooper as the number one stomper.

The band fiddled its way into the semi-finals of the National Country Music contest in Warrenton, Va. last summer, and the original dancers once were invited to perform before the king and queen of England in the White House.

Band Members

The band is composed of Grant, Byrdie, and Gordon Thomas, Earl Dummer, and Larry Shumway.

In the square dancing organization are Jim and Jeanne Cooper, Bob and Lujean Leake, Benan Chipman, Nola Carlisle, Roy Taylor, Nena Law, Al Ray, Joan Hoppie, Alvin Gunderson, Meride Meryle, Dean Thompson, Marie Brenner, Calvin Hiatt and Joy Webb.

The band was organized in 1950 and since then has given more than 200 shows in Utah, Idaho, and Nevada. They have entertained at basketball games, assemblies and other activities. They have also been on KSL TV and radio shows in Provo and Nashville, Tenn.

Grant and Byrdie Thomas began singing together in high school when they led a hillbilly band. They played over a radio station in Arlington and Falls Church, Va., and were seen on television from Washington, D.C.

This year they have been on tours to northern and northeastern Utah and plan to travel to Logan and vicinity the early part of May.

Jim Cooper has been dancing since he was four years old. In 1939 he danced on the junior dance team that won first place in a national folk festival at Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C.

He has square danced in New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, D.C., Nashville, Chattanooga, St. Louis, Atlanta, and Ashville, N.C.

In 1950 Jim and his sister were selected, with seven other couples, to represent the United States in an international Folk Festival in Venice, Italy.

MOUNTAIN MUSIC—This hillbilly band and dancing group gained semi-finals of a national country music contest in Virginia and since then have rocketed along the road to fame. For their contributions to Program Bureau they rate this week's Talent of the Week Award. They are presently planning a trip to Logan and vicinity in the early part of next month.

Child Educators Meet at Provo School

The annual State Association for Childhood Education International convention will be held Saturday at the Wasatch School, Provo, Mrs. Hazel Bowen, elementary education faculty member, announced today.

Provo Chapter of the association will be hostess to the state groups. Mrs. May C. Hammond, Miss Georgia Maeser, and Miss Mary Nielsen, elementary education faculty members, will lead discussion groups.

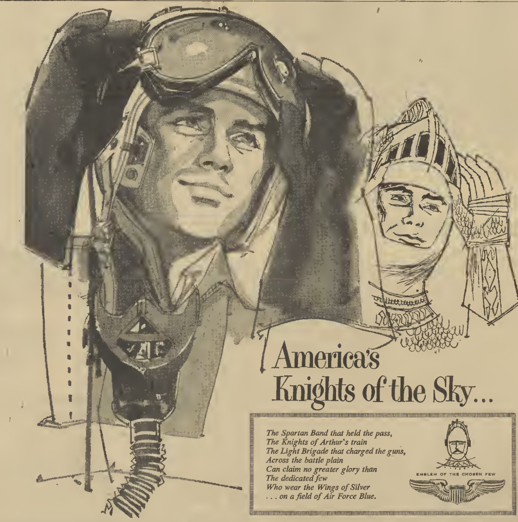
THE BEST BUYS ARE IN THE UNIVERSE



America's Knights of the Sky...

The Spartan Band that held the pass,
The Knights of Arthur's train
The Light Brigade that charged the guns,
Across the battle plain
Can claim no greater glory than
The dedicated few
Who wear the Wings of Silver
. . . on a field of Air Force Blue.

EMBLEM OF THE CHOSEN FEW

For Fellowship...High Adventure...and a Proud Mission... wear the wings of the U. S. Air Force!

In days gone by, young men in shining armor ruled the age. Today, a new kind of man rules the age—America's Knights of the Sky, the Air Force Pilots! They rule from on high, in flashing silver-winged Air Force jets . . . a gallant band that all America looks up to! Like the Knights of old, they are few in number, but they represent their Nation's greatest strength.

If you are single, between the ages of 19 and 26½, you can join this select flying team and serve with the finest. You will be given the best jet training in the world, and graduate as an Air Force Lieutenant earning $5,000 a year. Your silver wings will mark you as one of the chosen few who ride the skies in Air Force jets.

As an Air Force pilot, your kingdom is space—a jet is your charger and your mission is the highest. You are a key defender of the American faith, with a guaranteed future both in military and commercial aviation.

Join America's Knights of the Sky, new men of a new age. Be an Aviation Cadet! For further information, fill out this coupon.
